It is estimated that there is a rise in both anxiety and depression disorders by 25% during the first year of the pandemic. Therefore, it is only necessary that mental health awareness should be propagated diligently to fight this illness together, and also, mental health awareness should be recognized, promoted, and protected.

NAGALAND LAUNCHES CHIEF MINISTER'S HEALTH INSURANCE SCHEME

In a first of its kind in the State of Nagaland, the Chief Minister's Health Insurance Scheme (CMHIS) was launched on 14th October 2022 at the Chief Minister's State Banquet Hall, CMRC, Kohima, with CEO, National Health Authority, Ministry of Health & Family Welfare, Dr. R. S. Sharma as the guest of honour, and Chief Minister, Nagaland, Neiphiu Rio as the special guest.

Delivering the keynote address, Chief Secretary, Nagaland, J. Alam IAS informed that the Oriental Insurance Company Limited will be the insurance partner with whom the Government has already signed the agreement. With the Nagaland Sustainable Development Goal Vision 2030 launched in August 2021, envisaging that by 2030, Nagaland will provide equitable, affordable and quality healthcare services to the people of the State, the CS stated that CMHIS is a major step towards fulfilling this vision. He informed that the Government held multiple consultations with various stakeholders in the State as well as outside the State, and inputs from experts across the country, and came up with a Health Benefit Package that they hope will ensure a balanced and equitable access to quality healthcare for all.

Terming the launch of the CMHIS as a significant milestone, and acknowledging/lauding the leadership of Chief Minister Neiphiu Rio, guest of honour, CEO, National Health Authority, Ministry of Health & Family Welfare, Dr. R. S. Sharma, who delivered his address live from Delhi, stated that with the launch of CMHIS, Nagaland will become the second state in North-east to have universal health coverage, taking India forward to realising its Sustainable Development Goal of universal health access. Informing that around 12,000 hospitalisations were recorded in NHA-IT platform, and with the CMHIS scheme to be launched in the NHA-IT platform, he assured that it is robust, scalable and can record millions of processes of the healthcare system.

Chief Minister, Neiphiu Rio addressing the launching programme, stated that the CMHIS covering the entire population of the State, will expand the coverage of insurance benefits, over and above those being covered under Prime Minister's Ayushman Bharat scheme. Under the scheme, the CM stated that the people of the State will have an assurance of better access to healthcare services than they had ever before. Pointing out that for any illness that requires hospitalisation resulting in substantial expenditure, which may not be within the means of the family, Rio expressed hope that the scheme will help prevent such hardships. He stated that government servants on regular employment and serving legislators and their families will not have to go through the tedious and long process of medical reimbursement as they can avail treatment in a cashless manner.

Rio stated that it will be an opportunity for the private hospitals in the State to treat the patients and get assured payments, adding that there is tremendous interest generated amongst the private hospitals. He informed that consultations have been held with the private hospitals and the package rates have been revised to provide the best possible rates in the country, and that all the Government Hospitals in the State will also be empanelled to provide in-patient treatment under the scheme.

Rio further appealed to all the beneficiaries to enroll themselves on the online enrollment portal which is open now. In case they are not able to self-enroll, they should avail the free assistance that is being provided during the next fortnight all over the State at designated locations for e-verification. He also appealed to all hospitals to immediately enroll on the online portal so that they are able to provide services immediately.

Stating that a remarkable achievement has been made in the history of Nagaland by launching the CMHIS, Minister, Health & Family Welfare, Pangnyu Phom said that people with the least means not only have greater health problems but are less accessible to health care due to unaffordability of hospitalization expenses. There are two schemes being implemented in the State covering specific population segments

- Ayushman Bharat Pradhan Mantri Jan Arogya Yojana (AB PM-JAY) scheme for the pre-identified deprived categories and Medical Reimbursement Scheme (MR Scheme) for the government employees and their dependent family members. In addition, government employees and pensioners their dependents are provided with a monthly fixed medical allowance to cover their out-patient treatment expenses, he added.

Pangnyu also pointed out that there is a substantial section of the society who neither belong to government employee family nor eligible for AB PM-JAY. The government of the day is responsive to these concerns of the people and have come up with a scheme which aims to reduce their financial burden, knowing that medical expenditure is a leading cause of impoverishment. He expressed hope that CMHIS will be an important stepping stone to achieve positive health and wellbeing, and a driver of economic prosperity for the State of Nagaland.

During the programme, Chief Minister, Neiphiu Rio released the CMHIS Policy Document, and also launched the CMHIS Beneficiary Registration Portal, thereby, initiating the Beneficiary Enrolment Drive. The Chief Minister also handed over the Ayushman-CMHIS Card to the beneficiaries, namely, Yinshom SS Konyak from the General Population Category, Neikholhoulie Belho from the Pensioners Category, and Solo Kent from the Government Employees Category. Empanelment Certificates were also handed over to Oking Hospital Kohima, CIHSR Dimapur, Olive Hospital Dimapur, District Hospital Mon and District Hospital, Longleng by the Chief Minister.

He also compared the census of Mithun, which shows 40452 in the year 2003, declining to 23123 in the year 2020 due to the decline of forest land, lack of crossing over to other boundaries for fear of destruction of agriculture, and being killed by their predators wolf/tiger.

Geological Survey of India (GSI) has taken up 108 projects in NER on different mineral commodities during the last five years and 23 mineral exploration projects on various commodities in NER in current field season 2022-23. The Government is also funding projects through National Mineral Exploration Trust (NMET), he added.

Two mineral exploration projects of Limestone & Iron Ore of Nagaland funded by NMET have been already completed. NMET is also providing financial assistance for procurement of machinery/laboratory equipment/instruments etc. to State DGMs upto 10% of the total approved exploration projects in year. A Joint Working Group has been constituted by Ministry of Mines for different states to resolve several issues related to the process of auctioning.

Assuring NER of complete support, Pralhad Joshi further stated that the Ministry through GSI and Indian Bureau of Mines (IBM) can organize training programme for State Geologist and other functionaries for their capacity building. Such programmes can be organized by GSI in its Shillong Centre or GSITI at Hyderabad as per the convenience of states.

However, Joshi also stated his concerns regarding auctioning process in the NER and urged the State Governments to resolve the issues pertaining to auction in different states of North East region. He added that the establishment of resources and their successful auction will bring economic prosperity through revenue augmentation, employment generation, industry influx which will further lead to overall growth and development of the NER. The successful auctioning of the blocks can also act as a catalyst to bring other financing sources to the region.

visionary leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi and dynamic leadership of Union Minister of Mines and Coal has brought about major reforms in the mining sector of the country which are positively impacting the rest of the states in the country both in mineral exploration and mineral production. However, he stated that, it is a matter of great concern that the Northeast States are yet to make a mark in the mineral block auction regime of the country and this issues need to be addressed as we are unable to sustainably exploit our mineral resources at war footing.

Rio stated that Nagaland, besides Oil and Natural Gas, has economically viable mineral resource of coal, limestone (cement and chemical grade), multi-metal magnetite and minor mineral resources especially sandstone distributed in all districts of the State. He informed that we have not been able to exploit our resources due to harsh rugged terrain and remote locations, which does not have sufficient connectivity, the land ownership systems and other logistics factors. We also have been hampered by the prolonged non-settlement of the Naga Political Issue. These factors have inhibited the proactive participation of exploration and extraction agencies in the State.

Rio expressed that only the State Directorate of Geology & Mining with its limited resources of machineries has been undertaking very few exploration activities. The State Directorate has the manpower, but is unable to take up more mineral blocks on account of lack of modern machines and equipments. Henceforth, he urged the Union Ministry to take note and provide assistance for capacity building of the State Directorate, and also urged the Ministry to handhold the State G&M departments to fully exploit the new reformed regime. They should use accredited exploration agencies, not only in the public sector but also private sector, for scaling up exploration activities. In this regard, he requested the Ministry of Mines to consider increased funding for exploration, including for the untapped Minor Minerals, in the State.

In the oil exploration and extraction sector, Rio said we have started discussions with Government of India and Assam for finalizing the tripartite MoU for the Sectors A, B, C, D, E and F of the Disputed Area Belt along Nagaland – Assam border. Once confidence in DAB is rebuilt, we should be able to take up exploration and extraction in the remaining part of the State, for which a bipartite MoU is being discussed with the Government of India, he informed.

Assam Chief Minister in his address, endorsed the resolution passed by the NE states during the summit and urged the Central Ministry to give due consideration to their demands. While taking the example of states like Orissa and Arunachal Pradesh where the economy of the states have improved drastically in the last two decades due to the proper exploration and utilisation of their natural resources, he urged Nagaland Government to expedite the exploration of its oil and natural resources.

Eight resolutions were presented at the conclave, out of which five resolutions were passed and three resolutions are subjected to further approval. This method of cultivating King Chillies is popular in Peren district hill areas and areas under the Tening sub-division which are famous for the supply of King Chillies to Dimapur and Kohima and outside the State. The King Chillies coming from Peren district are considered to be of the best quality with superior taste, aroma, flavour, and pungency as compared to others coming from other areas. Apart from fresh and dried form, there are various ways in which these chillies can be marketed, in the form of powder, pickle, sauce, etc. As such, there is huge scope for business ventures for the local people of Peren district. Rupala urged the Animal Husbandry & Veterinary Services Department to make full use of the facility so as to increase the animal population, and added that timely treatment given to animals through the mobile facility will result in good production and in return, Nagaland can soon become self-sufficient in producing milk, meat and eggs for consumption.

STRENGTHENING THE SYSTEM OF REGISTRATION OF BIRTHS AND DEATHS IN NAGALAND

(A DIPR feature article)

The registration of births and deaths in the country is being carried out under the provision of Registration of Births and Deaths (RBD) Act, 1969. The responsibilities of implementation of this Act lie with the respective State Governments/Union Territories (UT) Administration which frames its own rules for this purpose. Under Section 4(3) of the said Act, the State Government, through Chief Registrar of Births and Deaths in each State/UT, who is the Chief Executive Authority in the concerned State/UT, is responsible for work of registration of births and deaths under the provision of RBD Act, 1969 and rules and orders made thereafter.

Births and deaths statistics are key variables in national policy formulation and play a critical role in population dynamics. These vital statistics are invaluable for planning, monitoring and evaluating various programmes related to primary health care, family planning, maternal and child health, education and public housing, etc.

In accordance with the RBD Act, every local registrar sends a monthly report along with the statistical part of the reporting forms to the District Registrar who compiles district-wise information and submits it to the Chief Registrar in accordance with the mechanism as may have been prescribed in each State/UT.

In Nagaland, altogether, there are 1455 registration units spread across the State and the local registrars, who are mostly school teachers, carry out the work of registration of births and deaths in their respective unit voluntarily without any remuneration in any form.

As per the Registration of Births & Deaths Act 1969, the registration of birth and death is provided free of cost if registered within 21 days of its occurrence, and under Clause 13 (1), any birth or death of which information is given to the Registrar after the expiry of the period specified, but within thirty days of its occurrence, shall be registered on payment of such late fee as may be prescribed.
