originally fostered through the remains collection between Japan and Nagaland will be further strengthened through the construction of the Eco-Park as well as the exchange of young people, and they will become new bridges between India and Japan.

Chief Minister, Neiphiu Rio who also spoke at the inaugural programme said that the event marked an important milestone in the narrative of Naga-Japan partnership which though started under the cloud of conflict had today matured into one for advocating peace and brotherhood of humanity, the message that has been embodied by the Kohima Peace Memorial. Rio highlighted how Nagaland's association with Japan had started almost five decades ago through the Japan Association for Recovery and Repatriation of War Casualties, an Association that continues till date and the Association has now matured into bi-lateral cooperation with Japan under which there are two ongoing Externally Aided Projects in the forestry and medical sectors. Rio further added that the inauguration of the Kohima Peace Memorial and the ceremony of laying Foundation Stone is the expression of the Naga People's commitment to forge stronger ties between Japan and Nagaland.

Minister, Environment, Forest & Climate Change and Village Guards C.L. John emphasized that the Peace Memorial and Eco Park is the realization of a long-felt need in the State given the history of association between Nagaland and Japan. The Minister highlighted about how 70% of state population is engaged in agriculture, mostly traditional method of jhum and shifting cultivation and how this type of traditional method is the major reason for loss of forest cover in Nagaland. In such situation, the sanctioning of JICA assisted Nagaland Forest Management Project (NFMP) seems providential in rescuing the rich biodiversity of the State, he stated. The project objective is to restore forest cover through tree plantation in jhum and promoting conservation of forest through community participation and the project aims to bring an area of 790 square kilometers under forest cover by planting 17 million saplings. He expressed his gratitude and appreciation to the government and people of Japan for the invaluable assistance towards safeguarding the forest and ecology of Nagaland.
